For the State Convention each ward a entitled four delegates.

The Situation at Minneapolis. The indications are that a hal of will uot be reached in the Republican National Convention before Saturday. It is stated in the despatch that the Harrison men are complaining at the delay as though more time than usual was being taken in the preliminary work of the convention. As a matter of fact, however, a billot was not taken in the convention of 1889 until the fourth day, while this conventino has only been in session two days and consequently if a ballot is reached by Saturday the business of the convention will have been as expenditiously conducted as it was four years ago when Mr. Harrison

The talk of taking up a new cardidate is a part of the programme to :rv and hasten a vole. The managers of the Blaine forces are too old campaigners, however, to be frightened by it is bluff game. They know that the work of the convention is as well advanced as is usual in a national convention, and they also know that Mr. Blaine is gaining strength all of the time, hence they do not propose to be stampeded by the tactics of their The fact is that all the bulk of delay

The policy of the Re-publican party is essentially an American policy, the purpose being to build up cur own industries and let England shift to herself. The policy of the Democratic party is just the reverse of this and would make as dependent upon England. The thrif people of the United States understand this fact and propose to again disappoint the free traders in the fall election.

Echoes from the Convention. VIEWS OF PROMINENT REPUBLICANS. A special to the New | York Tribune of Wednesday says: Representative Boutelle, of Maine, who is to charge of the Blaine headquarters, said this morning: "Blaine will be nominated on the first ballot. There is no doubt about it." there no possibility of a third candidate?"

None whatever. Of course there is a possibility that we will die before the corvention, and there is just about as much vention, and there is just about as much of a one that a third candidate will come CORPORATION BONDS

Ex-Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, says: I think that Harrison certainly coul have been nominated if we could have had Paid Up Cash Capital, $600,000 a vote to-day. Congressman H. H. Bingham, of Phila delphia, says: "Blaine has undoubtedly gained during the last 24 hours. We give Harrison a liberal estimate of only 410 Ex-Congressman John M. Langston, of Virginia, says: "It looks more hopefu than ever for Blaine and Alger—my ticket. I think Blaine will get it on the first City of Ban for Six Per Cent. Bonds. Francis G. Newlands, one of the lead-lng men of the Pacific slope, says: There has been no particular change and Blake, Barrows & Brown, Blaine is still in the lead." De Young, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle and delegate-at-large from Callfornia, says: "Things are stronger and atronger for Blaine and weaker for Harrison. The delegates that are instructed for Harrison are going home and Maying matters to their alternates. We to-day received a resolution from our State Central Committee naking us to vote as a Ex-Congressman Caudler, of Massachusetts, says; "Mr. Blaine undoubtedly has the majority of the votes in the convention. The tremendous pressure of public desire is in that direction, but what may come up at the time the ballot is taken Ex-Senator Platt declares that it is a mistake to claim 29 votes for Harrison in the New York delegation, as the names of six absent delegates were algued to the paper by some one without authority. "Even if they should confirm the signstures the accession to Harrison does not offset the advantage to Blaine," said one of the leaders, "in the contest of the Committee on Credentials, nor the ga no that we have made in the Northwest which will be cast when the time comes for ac-

Mr. Blaine must have had excellent reasons for writing the letter of resignation. His motive, I think, was resignation. His motive, I think, was largely personal. I think possibly he saw enough in the situation to call for the res-Ignation. The Cablnet members have given views criticising him for the course he was pursuing, and the President showed no disposition to check this talk."

A Republican Year,

The New York Herald realizes that the drift of public sentiment is with the Republicans this year. Concerning the Minneapolis convention it says that the Blaine men are gaining strength all the time, and in view of the probable nomination of the Yandati man from Maine adds: "The Democrats can afford to be very quiet until the Republicans have spoken, but after that they must put their best man into the fieldone who can carry New York State w thout a peradventure and be prepared to do some of the hardest work that has been done in many years. With such a man and such an effort they have a first class fighting chance, but without these they have no chance at all." In other words the Herald practically abandons the field in advance in case Mr. Blaine is the nominee of the Republican party. It has repeatedly declared that Cleveland can of cary Kew York If he is nominated and adviese the Democrats to select a new
